We need your stamps!

September is Childhood Cancer Awareness Month and we are looking for support for the BCRT used postage stamp appeal to raise money for the Bone Cancer Research Trust (Charity Number 1159590), the leading charity dedicated to fighting primary bone cancer.

We are looking for used and new postage stamps from the UK and overseas.

Instead of throwing away your stamped envelopes, we can raise vital funds to help us continue with our research, providing information, raising awareness as well as offer support to those who need it.

Primary bone cancer can occur at any age, but affects mostly children, teenagers, young adults and the elderly. On average 12 people every week are diagnosed across the UK and Ireland. The survival rate for this disease is just over 50% and this has not changed in the last 25 years. With your help we can work towards changing this, so more people have a chance to live!

Please send your stamps to us at: BCRT Stamp Appeal, 20 Bowers Road, Benfleet, Essex, England, SS7 5PZ or visit our website at <https://www.bcrt.org.uk/get-involved/other-ways-to-donate/the-bcrt-stamp-appeal> and apply for a stamp appeal fundraising pack or for more information and to have any questions answered please email – terri.volunteer@bcrt.org.uk

Thank you so much for your time.

Until there's a cure,

Kind Regards,

Terri

Loosening up with Watercolour

with Kaye Parmenter

Monday 21st October || 10am to 4pm || £55 || Watercolour

Come and have fun painting a variety of subjects with watercolour artist Kaye Parmenter, and experiment with many ways to loosen up your painting. Subjects will include flowers, animals, landscapes, skies and birds, and the workshop will begin with a demonstration of a particular subject or technique and then students all have a go. Kaye will then circulate, giving one to one advice. By the end of the day, you will have completed a few subjects and encompassed a variety of methods and techniques with loose watercolour.

Kaye is an established artist in Somerset, exhibiting in two local galleries, 303 Gallery in Martock and the Churchgate Gallery in Porlock. Her achievements include winning the Chairman's Choice award at the Bath and West Show 2009 and exhibiting in the Mall Galleries in London as part of the Art Liberating Lives Exhibition. Kaye has had numerous solo exhibitions, regularly runs workshops, and has also written and illustrated a few children's books.

EDEN ARTS FESTIVAL

MUSIC MAKERS WEEKEND

21-22 September

Join us this weekend for family-friendly fun, packed full of music from the Orchestra for the Earth. We'll be hosting workshops throughout the day for you to make your own percussion instruments and join in with the music-making!

Orchestra for the Earth are an incredible group of young musicians united by their love of music and their mission to save the planet. They'll be performing a selection of classical favourites inspired by nature, including Hans Christian Andersen's classic story The Wild Swans, and Ravel's fairytale Mother Goose Suite.

You can enjoy being serenaded as you explore the Biome, or join in with percussion instruments that you're invited to make on the day.

Plus, get involved in building a huge instrument with a visiting artist engineer and builder of experimental musical instruments – and discover the science behind the sounds.

BIG BRASS! - AN EXCITING OPPORTUNITY

The Brass Team at Cornwall Music Service Trust invite you to come along to our Lower brass and French Horn workshop.

If you are a brass player and fancy trying something new, why not come and see how it feels to play a different instrument.

We have so many young learners playing trumpets and cornets and less playing the larger instruments.

You may find that the Trombone is not as mysterious as you thought, the French Horn is not really French at all! And, secretly, you've always wanted to play the Tuba! The CMST brass team will be there to showcase the lower brass instruments.

When is this amazing event happening? October the 5th from 10am to midday.

Where do we go to participate? Truro High School for girls – Annex building.

How do we sign up? Send me an email

smunns@cornwallmusicservicetrust.org or let your brass teacher know you are coming.

You are encouraged to attend our workshop so that you can experience playing a Trombone, French Horn, or Tuba. If you feel inspired, and ready to commit for at least a year, we will provide you with 10 FREE sessions to get you well underway.

This event is being organized in order to create a greater balance in the range of brass instruments currently being learned. We anticipate it being an informal and fun session for players of all ages and abilities. If you are unable to attend but keen to try a different instrument, please ask your teacher. You would still be eligible for 10 Free lessons.

There's just two days left to vote for our powerful plastic pollution film The Creature to win an award.

It only takes seconds to vote. Please click on the Facebook like and Twitter icons here >> VOTE NOW

Back in May, hundreds of thousands of us watched the mysterious Creature wash up on a Cornish beach and shed a tear as it took its last breath, its body choking with plastic pollution. The Creature became the face of the countless animals killed by ocean-wrecking plastic every year, a focal point for our grief.

This was a big, big moment for Surfers Against Sewage. From our base in a small village by the seashore in Cornwall, we sent a clarion call for the ocean all around the world. Now the Creature lives on through its nomination in the London Surf / Film Festival's 'The Shorties' category, one of the most prestigious short film competitions for surf filmmakers in the world.

But we need your help to win! Please Vote for The Creature now

>> <https://londonsurffilmfestival.com/the-creature/>

We made The Creature to wake people up. To shock, move and inspire them to join our movement for ocean protection, #GenerationSea. Not only can your vote help win an award, but you'll also help grab a slot on the billing at the Festival. This would mean we get our gut-wrenching film on the big screen this October, exposing the Creature's moving story to even more people.

We're stoked to be nominated alongside 10 outstanding films celebrating surf culture and our planet's stunning oceans from all over the world. Currently we have over 100 votes, but we need 10 times that to top the viewers' vote. If you - and the thousands of others reading this email - take one minute out of your day to vote, then we can win it for the ocean.

Yes, I'll vote for The Creature

Right now, with plastic pollution and climate breakdown, we could be destroying ocean life faster than we're able to discover it. Single-use plastic not only suffocates our oceans and kills sea life, but it also fuels the climate crisis - as making and processing plastic releases greenhouse gases at every step.

To protect oceans and our climate, we need to kick our addiction to single-use plastic and change the systems producing it. That's why it's so important to find creative ways to reach people and inspire them to protect our oceans and sea life. This award is just that.

With your vote, we could add thousands more people to our movement against avoidable plastic.

Thanks for all you do for oceans,

Hugo
